NEW YORK – March 7, 2022 – Air Mauritius has sold one A330-200 widebody aircraft to MonoCoque Diversified Interests LLC (“MDI”), which has assigned the title and interest of the aircraft to Aquila Air Capital (Ireland) DAC (“Aquila Air Capital”). The Airbus A330-200 was delivered in Marana, Arizona in November 2021.

“The sale of the A330-200 aircraft is part of the Air Mauritius’ restructuring plan,” stated Indradev Buton, Officer in Charge, Air Mauritius.

“MDI will manage the aircraft for Aquila Air Capital and is excited to add the A330-200 to our managed passenger portfolio. We look forward to seeing the twelve-year-old aircraft back in the sky soon,” adds MDI’s Manager Mary Alice Keyes.

“We are pleased to work with MDI to take over the title of this aircraft and add it to our growing aircraft and engine lease portfolio,” said Al Wood, Aquila Air Capital CEO.

The General Electric powered aircraft, formerly registered 3B-NBL, will begin maintenance and preparations for its return to the skies in early 2022.
